

“Nursing school is not an obstacle to leap over but a place to grow and develop into a professional nurse. So when I think about leadership and FNSA, it’s not about following a strict hierarchy for no reason but rather a collection of individuals who share a similar set of aspirations and who come together to make a difference, especially as students.”

— Chris Demezier, FNSA President

What can the Florida Nursing Students’ Association (FNSA) do for you?

“Throughout my nursing school career, I have made connections state wide with students and faculty and I owe it all to my involvement with FNSA. FNSA has opened doors for me and I feel sure that unique opportunities will continue to unfold as I wrap up my schooling and enter into the professional world with the help of students and faculty I’ve met state-wide.”

— Nicole Ackenbrack, FNSA Region 3 Director
